Crowdsourcing your Next Decision: Augment Your Data and Resources

Kerry Seed | IdeaScale | Berkeley, California

IdeaScale will present common crowdsourcing challenges that have been solved by the crowd: money saved, policy decisions made, data gathered. Come with a strategic challenge that you want to solve and Seed will establish the five criteria necessary to transforming that challenge into a valuable problem statement for the crowd.

IdeaScale empowers organizations of all sizes to engage their most valuable resource - passionate people - in order to make impactful decisions about the future together. Learn more about idea management software at ideascale.com
